

The power of charitable endowments

Create a lasting legacy in London by establishing or growing an endowment.

Your support provides sustainable, long-term funding for vital community organisations, empowering them to continue making a meaningful impact for generations to come.

- Each pound donated will benefit from compounded growth for years to come.
- Direct all investment income and provide a sustainable, long-term source of funding for the city's most trusted and effective community groups, organisations and charities.
- Gain from the tax benefits associated with charitable giving, without the hassle of running your own trust or foundation

Together, we can secure a brighter future for our city.

Our impact

The London Community Foundation has already raised over £127 million and hold over £24 million in endowment funds to support local communities in London. Tackling disadvantage and creating a fair and more equitable city. Making a difference to local communities, where it matters most.

How we can help you

The London Community Foundation is a charity, raising awareness of community projects and organisations that are doing fantastic work across London. Local communities already know the challenges they face and have good ideas to overcome them too. Let us connect you with those people best placed to bring change to our city:

- Customised giving solutions - tailored personalised guidance, including establishing donor-advised funds and confidential giving options for those who wish to keep their philanthropic activity private
- Local expertise - decades of experience understanding the complexity of giving in London allows us to connect you with those beyond your own reach
- Legacy development - comprehensive support for planned giving, ensuring your estate plans reflect your generosity and values, creating a lasting legacy
